How can Andrew help you?

Andrew has a talent for helping every player improve their golf – regardless of age or ability. He is best known for his work with the juniors and operates a flourishing junior coaching programme at the York Golf Range.

But he is equally skilled in assisting older golfers as well, whether it's an erratic weekend golfer trying to break 90 for the first time or an ambitious club player looking for a single-figure handicap.

I was nervous about having lessons. I took up golf rather late and was reluctant to expose my swing to detailed analysis by a professional. I needn't have worried – Andrew put me at ease very quickly and his lessons have been enjoyable and rewarding ever since. He seems to have a knack for knowing how to relate to each and every one of his pupils. He understands how to get the most out of them, so that they can get the most out of themselves and ultimately, from the wonderful game of golf.

Ben Galloway - (Age 45, handicap 14)

Andrew Smith spent most of his career working as a club professional, and played extensively in South Africa & Zimbabwe. Andrew has always had a passion for coaching and has been the teaching professional at York Golf Range since it opened in 2003.

Andrew is a former Yorkshire PGA Captain, a Class AA Teaching Professional and PGA-qualified rules referee. He is also the best-selling author of two books on golf. He has over 30 years' experience coaching players of all ages.

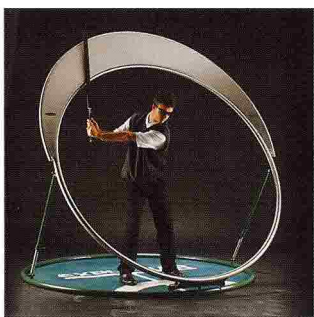

Andrew looks forward to meeting and welcoming you to York Golf Range.

The Explanar Professional Training System is one of the most comprehensive tools for teaching golf.

Most golfers swing either too "flat" or too "upright". Explanar easily adjusts to your proper set-up height and keeps you in "perfect plane" as you practise and refine your golf swing motion. Golf professionals and coaches see results in a shorter space of time. Explanar is used at golf facilities by thousands of PGA Professionals around the world including Andrew Smith at York Golf Range.

What Andrew's pupils say...

The things I like about golf is doing a good shot and having fun.

Charlie Wilson, (Age 8, YMG course member)

I think YMG is really good because before, I couldn't hit the ball, but now I have a handicap and am a member.

William, (Age 11, Handicap 34, YMG course member)

I retired at 65 and at that point had never been on a golf course. I was looking for a hobby which would provide some physical and mental exercise, preferably outdoors, but not too strenuous. A friend suggested that he and I should take up golf. We did so, and much as I enjoyed our strolls around the golf courses, I knew that my game had faults which I could not correct on my own.

So far, Andrew has taught me basic golfing techniques covering many course situations and given me the confidence needed in developing my game. I am pleased to report that I have made some progress towards the standard which I would like to achieve. Golf has given me a welcome challenge and I take pride in the modest improvements to my game which would not have been possible without Andrew's guidance.

Frank Horner, (Age 65, beginner)

Specialist advice

Andrew Smith acts as the Golf Rehabilitation advisor to Mr. Rahul Jain, Consultant Orthopedic Surgeon FRCS (ORTH) & Hip & Knee Specialist - Bespoke Joint Solutions.

Over the course of his career, Andrew has acquired a detailed understanding of the mechanics of the golf swing and the impact it can have on the body. He is well placed therefore to assist anyone who might wish to return to golf following injury or after surgery.

Rahul Jain is equally keen to assist the older golfer who may be reluctant to continue their golf because of restricted movement or pain and is highly experienced in treating arthritic conditions affecting the hip and knee.

You're never too old to take up golf and never too old to rediscover it again if you thought your best days were behind you. Let Andrew show you how.
